1. In mid-September four 60-ton tanks, and an unspecified number of smaller ones plus a "huge" quantity of war materiel were seen transported across the Danube from the Rumanian shore at Vidin. Ferry boats were used which carried railroad trains heading south.
2. Special Bulgarian army units and Trudovak units were busy night and day in all weather constructing permanent fortifications on the Bulgarian side of the Yugoslav border. Cement, lumber, steel, and barbed wire were being transported by all transportation means.
3. Mines were being laid at crossroads; tank traps and obstructions were being built; and highway bridges were being mined.
4. Specifically, there were new fortifications at Vidin, Alexandrovo, Valas (sic), Kula, Reanchovi Chuprenia (sic)¹, Sveti Mikolska mountains, and Ferdinand (Mikhaylovgrad), all in northwest and west Bulgaria.
5. In May informant saw 40 Trudovaks constructing a new roadbed at the General Todorov railroad station. The new railroad is to be standard gauge, running parallel to the present narrow gauge line from the General Todorov station to Petrich. [REDACTED] presumes the new railroad will replace the old line.

Possibly Chuprene.
